

SCOT CONWAY

The Martial Life Catalyst Speaker

Man or Macho You Do Have A Choice

As a martial arts master and lawyer, Scot Conway repeatedly saw how many self-defense problems and legal problems started off as people problems. He realized that those conflicts and arguments can be resolved at the human level before they escalated! His ability to stop so much fighting kept the best clients and best team members in agreement thereby building a community of genuine connection.

In this talk, Scot shows the modern man's double-bind where he is caught in a predicament of choosing between that which is demanded of him and that which he is told is also forbidden.

Scot shares the reason why men feel trapped between being conscious/effeminate or toxic/traditional. He gives the reasoning they need to embrace as a powerful solution.

Your audience will learn how to:

- ✓ Use self-referencing to an objective standard.
- ✓ Do the five things every man needs to do constantly to be seen and heard.
- ✓ Get the single most powerful agreement for peaceful continuity.
- ✓ Use a professional and personal application both for men and women that honors their individuality.

(Perfect for Men or to address Man/Woman issues such as Sexual Harassment)
