

SCOT CONWAY

The Martial Life Catalyst Speaker

Don't Take Out the Trash It Might Save You

As a martial arts master and lawyer, Scot Conway repeatedly saw how many self-defense problems and legal problems started off as people problems. He realized that those conflicts and arguments can be resolved at the human level before they escalated! His ability to stop so much fighting kept the best clients and best team members in agreement thereby building a community of genuine connection.

In this talk, Scot Conway shows men and women personally and professionally how to uncover the simple truths about the challenges and triumphs in their lives, and why they so often get it backwards. He shares that some gifts come wrapped in sandpaper and the importance of persistence and perseverance to make the difference between success and failure.

Scot shares his three-level system for recognizing, keeping and getting rid of the thoughts, elements and tools that will keep them on the right track no matter what their circumstances.

Your audience will learn:

- ✓ The simple, one-step test anyone can perform on any decision making.
- ✓ The number one reason the most conscious people get it backwards.
- ✓ The three-step martial arts mastery of treasure.
- ✓ How to pre-fix the problems they don't even know they are creating.

(Perfect for Change Leadership and Crisis or Post-Crisis Leadership)
